- Divergent Bar Graphs – show the percent of responses on a response temperature bar graph. Values on the left, in warm colors, represent negative values (ex.: poor), while values on the right, in cool colors, represent positive values (ex.: excellent). If the divergent bar is shifted to the right of zero on the x-axis (horizontal axis), then more responses are positive, if shifted to the left of zero, then more responses are negative.

- Trend Bar Graphs – compares responses for the current year (2020) as a bar and the previous year (2019) as a black line. A light orange bar represents a downward trend from 2019 to 2020 while light blue bar represents an upward trend from 2019 to 2020. Results with an * (asterisk) show a statistically significant change.

- Slope Line graphs – shows the percentage of responses for 2019 and 2020. Upward sloping graphs represent an increase from 2019 to 2020. Downward sloping graphs represent a decrease from 2019 to 2020. Responses are displayed by demographic breakdown.

- Dashboard Tabs: Allow the user to navigate to the title page, the data dashboard, and survey demographics dashboard.
  - Data Tab: tab that contains the survey results dashboard.
  - Survey Demographics Tab: tab that contains the breakdown of survey respondents by demographic characteristics. Breakdowns include: Age Grouping, Gender, Race, Employment Status, Education, Income, Marital Status, Home Ownership, Children at Home, and County Residence.
